

I am against hdtv copy protection. The only reason I have not yet purchased an HDTV set is because there is no reasonable way to record and time-shift the shows that I want to watch. I currently watch almost all of my TV time-shifted because of an erratic work schedule.

Allowing copy protection will make time-shifting impossible and leave no reason to move away from the current TV standard and VHS tape.

Thanks,
Jerry B.